Type of Course	MDC
Semester	I
Academic Level	100 - 199
Course Details	Credit	Lecture per week	Tutorial per week	Practical per week	Total Hours/Week
	3	3 hours	-	0	3
Pre-requisites	1. Have an interest in exploring literary texts representing nature. 2. Have an awareness about environmental issues and an interest in social change.
Course Summary	This multidisciplinary undergraduate course delves into the intersection of literature and the environment, examining how literary works engage with ecological issues, raise environmental awareness, and shape our understanding of the natural world. Students will explore a range of literary texts from different genres, time periods, and cultural contexts, analysing the ways in which authors represent and respond to environmental concerns. The course will also incorporate insights from environmental studies, ecology, and other relevant disciplines to provide a comprehensive understanding of the subject matter.

Course Summary	This course is designed to enhance the English language competency of first-semester degree students while focusing on core linguistic skills, critical reading, academic and expository writing skills while exploring the nuances of food, literature and culture. This will enhance language skills around culinary practices and create a vocabulary of food. It will map intersectional readings on food and culture. Through a combination of theoretical study, practical exercises, and cultural exploration, students will develop the linguistic proficiency and critical thinking abilities necessary for academic success and effective communication in English.

Course Summary	This course is interdisciplinary in nature and equips the learners with the essential communication skills needed for an interface in connection with the Language and Literature in the Legal domain. It looks at the importance of looking at literary texts as a reflection of, and a critique of the institutions of law and justice. Both legal and literary texts are embedded within larger cultural contexts. The students will be able to apply their communication skills in simulated legal scenarios, and craft persuasive legal arguments, thereby sharpening their communication prowess. The learners will examine communication strategies used in select literary works to gain insights relevant to legal themes and issues.

Course Summary	This course aims to enhance listening and speaking skills in English through contextual activities centred around appropriate audio video material. Vocabulary and grammar will receive additional implicit focus throughout. Activities are to be performed in pairs and groups, and this will lead to skill integration, promoting reading and writing too incidentally, preparing for a subsequent course entirely on those skills.

I	Sounds of English		12
	1	The sounds of English - vowels, diphthongs, consonants - English sounds vs Malayalam sounds
	2	The sounds of English - the phonetic alphabet - RP based transcription practice
II	Pronunciation Practice		12
	3	Pronunciation practice - word stress - weak forms of function words
	4	Pronunciation practice - sentence stress -- accent and rhythm in connected speech - (During practice in class a neutral, intelligible accent will be the aim, rather than RP as such. There should be an awareness of the dominant varieties of English, but no insistence on following any one in particular)

Pre-requisites	1. Have a fundamental grasp of the idea of fairy tales 2. An ability to think critically
Course Summary	The course will provide an insight into the construct of fairy tales that mirrored the outlook of the world that it inhabited and how its societal and ideological codes evolve with the changing times.

Detailed Syllabus:

Module	Unit	Contents	Hrs
I	Module 1: Of Fairies		12
		Fairies and fay stories – ambiguous portrayals – benevolence and malevolence – imps, trolls, ogres, elves, gnomes and other supernatural beings – similar concepts in other cultures – djinns and ifrits – azizas – nymphs – yakshas – paris – the timeless fascination for such stories – its allure and enchantment
	1	Critical Reading: (i) “On Fairy-Stories” by J.R.R. Tolkien https://archive.org/details/on-fairy-stories_202110/page/n9/mode/2up
	1	Reference Texts: (i) I Dream of Jeannie – TV show (ii) Aladdin – Animated series (iii) Son Pari – TV Drama (iv) Winx Club – Animated series  Instruction: This module will introduce the basic premise of fairies and the stories that evolved from their tales. It will also look at how the idea of fairy differs from culture to culture and is known by various other names.
II		Module 2: Contextualising Fairy Tales	12
		Stereotypes – active and passive roles – reinforcing ideals – dichotomy of good and evil – gendered roles – portrayal of children – the link between beauty and character – duality and transformation – power structures – acceptance and validation

	1	Primary Texts: (i) Hansel and Gretel (ii) Sleeping Beauty
	2	Critical Reading: (i) Hansel and Gretel: A Complex Tale of Parent-Child Interactions by Debbie Hindle https://www.researchgate.net/publication/342756463_Hansel_and_Gretel_a_complex_tale_of_parent-child_interactions (ii) The Stereotypical Representation of Women in the classic Fairy Tales, Snow White, Cinderella and Sleeping Beauty by Anisa Dyah Berlianti https://www.researchgate.net/publication/353009991_The_stereotypical_representation_of_women_in_the_classic_fairy_tales_Snow_White_Cinderella_and_Sleeping_Beauty Instruction: The module will help the student to develop critical acumen that will foreground the ideologically loaded constructs that hide behind the veneer of normalcy in seemingly innocuous fairy tales.
III	Module 3: The Art of Reading Fairy Tales		12
		How to “read” fairy tales? – constructs and their pervasiveness – establishing ideological norms through reiteration – reading as a political act – the idea of agency
	1	Primary text: (i) Morphology of the Folk Tale by Vladimir Propp (ii) A fairy tale (R)evolution: The value and the critical reading of fairy tales in the contemporary educational context by Dijana Vuckovic https://www.researchgate.net/publication/329629330_A_fairy_tale_Revolution_The_value_and_the_critical_reading_of_fairy_tales_in_the_contemporary_educational_context Instruction: The module helps the student to identify and learn critical reading that will bolster his/her analytic skills. The focus should be on how the reader should engage with the text to tease out contradictory perspectives that won’t be revealed through simplistic reading.
IV	Module 4: Re-reading Fairy Tales: Subversive Perspectives		12
		Disney Studios and Fairy tale adaptations – the process of transforming darker tales into fairy tale versions – an era of glorification and idealisation – subversive models – clarion call for celebrating differences and alternate perspectives
	1	Shrek (2001)

	2	The Princess and the Frog (2009)
	3	Maleficent (2014)  Instruction: The student should be able to identify and process the subversive narratives that challenge the earlier ones. The student can learn to appreciate how socio-cultural and political signifiers evolve in manifold ways.
V	Module 5: Crafting New Fairy tales		12
		Re-writing fairy tales – adapting the stories to cultural contexts – disputing the hegemonic structures within the narratives – re-writing history and culture – how experience shapes the new narrative  Writing tasks – story-telling sessions – writing workshops – crafting manuscripts – new designs – graphic narratives  Instructions: This module should help the student to creatively craft new tales that can reverberate with the ideals that he/she chooses to highlight. The focus should be on encouraging the creativity of the student along with fostering his/ her ability to engage critically with the traditional tales.

Course Summary	REGIONAL LITERATURE IN ENGLISH TRANSLATION As a nation with diverse languages and cultures, India's regional literatures play pivotal role in narrating her socio-cultural peculiarities/diversities. This course gives a critical understanding of literatures produced in regional languages of India which have shaped the literary identity of the nation. The course throws light over the cultural vibrancy of Indian literature produced in different languages. By the end of the course, the students will get a critical understanding about the concepts of plurality and diversity which become key aspects of postmodern literary production.

Discipline	ENGLISH
Course Code	UK4DSCENG202
Course Title	British Literature: Augustans to Victorians
Type of Course	DSC
Semester	IV
Academic Level	200-299
Course Details	Credit	Lecture per week	Tutorial per week	Practical per week	Total Hours/Week
	4	4 hours	-		4
Pre-requisites	1. Familiarity with British Literature (I), which would give the students a comprehensive outlook to approach history as a continuum, and not as isolated units. 2. Students should be aware of the interrelationship between the social and literary history of a nation, to understand how literature is at once a social product, and in turn moulds society.
Course Summary	The course intends to offer the students a comprehensive view of the historical and literary developments of different time periods; and to help them explore how socio-political backdrop goes into the making of the cultural context of a literary text. The select core texts are representative of the Age and the literary trend of the respective periods.

Course Summary	AMERICAN LITERATURE The course throws light upon the historical, cultural and the political contexts under which American literature as a significant stream of literature became popular. The students get an opportunity to understand how American literature developed through times, to know the eminent writers who shaped the identity of the country's literature and critically analyse how the literary works reflect the cultural, social and political scenario of the nation. After completion of the course, the students should be equipped enough to trace the evolution of American Literature, critically analyse the literary works, identify their Americanness as well as vibrancy and continue to critically evaluate the emerging tendencies of American literature.

Course Summary	This course offers an in-depth exploration of LGBTQA+ literature through various literary genres, including poetry, novels, drama, and non-fiction. From historical perspectives to contemporary voices, students will delve into the rich tapestry of LGBTQ experiences, identities, and struggles as depicted in literature. Through close reading, critical analysis, and discussions, students will examine how LGBTQ writers have used diverse literary forms to express themselves, challenge societal norms, and advocate for change. By engaging with a wide range of texts, students will gain a deeper understanding of LGBTQ history, culture, and representation in literature.

Classroom activities/Topics for Internal Assessment

The following activities can be allotted to groups or pairs of students as per the situation and the taste of the students.

1. Divide the students into four or five groups. Give a one line subject , for example , " grief " for them to work on a script of 5 minutes duration. You can also ask them to perform their script in class, once the proper script is written.
2. Divide the class into groups and assign them genres like comedy, tragedy, horror etc. Provide them with a situation like " At the railway station " and ask each group to build the scene and prepare a 3-minutes script in the genres assigned to them.
3. Clippings from films can be given where the students may be asked to provide subtitles in other language(s).

4. A passage can be given narrating an incident and students may be asked to write down a script (including dialogues) based on it.
5. When this script is ready, the students may be asked to perform dubbing and voice-over translation based on their script.
6. They may be asked to provide voice overs for introducing any short film. This can be done either in English or any regional language they are comfortable with.
7. A topic/theme may be given for preparing the script for documentary. It will also help them to practice voice-over translation and subtitling.
8. Scenes from films may be taken by group of students and they may do on the spot dubbing to another language (English to Malayalam or Malayalam to English).

	What are the connections between Gender, Sexuality, Knowledge and Power? What role does Culture play? Does living in a ‘developed’ country guarantee agency? How much of our lives are shaped by perception? What is the politics of branding through gender and sexuality that you are able to discern - particularly in the ads prescribed above? If after all these years, we are still talking about gender and sexual rights, then how do you define progress? Supplement your thoughts with readings of Michel Foucault on Knowledge, Power, Sexuality; Madhavi Menon on Desire, Judith Butler on precarity, Gayatri Gopinath on queer diaspora, and submit a project based on your finding.

Course Title	TRAVEL LITERATURE
Type of Course	DSE
Semester	VI
Academic Level	300 - 399
Course Details	Credit	Lecture per week	Tutorial per week	Practical per week	Total Hours/Week
	4	3 hours	-	2 hours	5
Pre-requisites	1. 2. UK102DSCENG
Course Summary	The primary focus would be on providing students with the resources needed to write about travel to equip them with the knowledge and abilities to write about it professionally, whether they are freelance writers or write for print and digital media. The course highlights the diversity of travel literature by pointing out how it relates to other similar literary (sub)genres, including audio recordings, vlogs, movies, autobiographies, letters, memoirs, and audio recordings etc. Additionally, students can consider whether travel is more of a perspective than physical activity and comprehend the stimulating nature of travel. To address these and other travel-related issues, students will examine well-known and illustrative works of travel literature in order to develop a broader perspective of the genre. Moreover, the course inspires the students to explore the infinite possibilities of travel writing and learn from the experiences of others.

Course Summary	The course aims to introduce the contributions of women in the field of visual culture. The course is designed to fill the gap in discourses around cinema which are mostly male-centric and have failed to record the potential of women artists, technicians, and performers. It also focuses on the politics of representation of women in and around cinema. Through this course, the students will understand and explore how women use spaces within visual culture.

Course Summary	This course aims to give students insight into print journalism, its evolution and growth, and to expose them to relevant print media terminology. It envisions to equip them with the necessary skills to identify the features of unbiased and objective news reports and to differentiate between different kinds of print media writing. Through an analysis of the linguistic strategies adopted for drafting high-quality reports, it aims to encourage students to pursue journalistic writing and to produce articles of their own. Finally, it seeks to address a host of ethical practices that journalists must follow in the contemporary world for sifting fact from untruths and half-truths.

Course Summary	This course intends to equip students with the theoretical and analytical skills to critically examine diverse types of texts as discourses situated in specific socio-cultural and historical contexts. Students will learn to approach all texts as mediated by power structures. They will develop the critical acumen to consider texts as social constructs leading to particular kinds of understanding of the concerns discussed. The context-specific frames used for interpretations turns Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA) into a broader multi/trans/cross disciplinary field of study that facilitates a dialectical reading of human experiences, expressions and representations.

Course Summary	This course is designed to cater to two separate literary genres—speculative fiction and fantasy. The rationale behind combining them is to explore how they cross-pollinate each other through the creation of imaginary worlds and alternative realities. The course undertakes to introduce the student community to an array of themes concerning the collective future of humanity and the planet on the one hand and imaginary worlds set in mythic settings on the other. It will help them comprehend scientific themes having profound ethical as well as moral consequences through a study of literature—poems, short fiction, plays, and novels. The course will provide an open forum for students to engage in intellectually stimulating discussions and also improve their creative writing skills.

Course Summary	Resistance literature prompts to reflect upon what literature seeks to do and the silences or oppression it challenges. It directs attention to forms of injustice, the gross inhumanity of the methods and the damages implemented by it. At its core, resistance literature offers a microcosm of power dynamics. Through narrative, poetic technique, subject matter and authorial position, texts highlight the often-intersectional dynamics of everyday living and the power structures that shape it. Each module will examine examples and forms of resistance literature; and may include subaltern, feminist and LGBTQ narratives, and protest literatures, across prose, poetry and visual art forms.
